WOLLSDORF LEDER

Global Tannery of the Year 2014!

Exciting news of WOLLSDORF LEDER. On September 3, 2014, the company was announced the winner of the fourth global Tannery of the Year in Shanghai, China. This most prestigious award in the global tanning industry is presented by the international magazine „World Leather“ every year.

Only two of the nine companies in the final event come from Europe. An independent judging panel chose the finalists based on a broad range of criteria. The purpose of the event was to present and honour the best companies in the global tanning industry.

This primarily involves tanneries which meet various requirements such as protecting the environment, having a well-functioning communication with the employees, cooperating with local authorities, providing a good economic basis, focusing on innovation and quality and having a strong customer-supplier relationship.

„It’s a great pleasure and I am highly honoured to accept this award at this great event“, says Mag. Andreas Kindermann, Chief Executive of WOLLSDORF LEATHER. „This proves that our path, to produce high quality leather with character instead of a cheap product, is the right one. Our customers understand and appreciate that. We are very proud to be honoured with this award and will continue our path. I dedicate this award to all the employees of WOLLSDORF LEDER“, says Mag. Andreas Kindermann.
